

The Crossing
The
ferry
left
the
harbour
at dawn.

The
water
was quiet
for a long time.

Rain

Rain

arrived

before

the lighthouse.

The

wind

began

to

drift

across

the

deck.

Flat

Water

By

noon

the

water

had

gone

flat.

She

remembered

the

crossing

for years.